Do you know what you can claim?

Last year, over 3,000 Australian SMEs entered various export markets with the help of Export Market Development Grants (EMDG), claiming over $200 million. It's estimated that there are a similar number who don't make a claim.

Australian firms claimed over $6 billion as research and development expenditure. This is estimated to be a fraction of the actual amount incurred by Australian businesses, as non-awareness of the ability to make a claim, unfamiliarity with the requirements of the tax concession and aversion to compliance costs cause many firms to resist claiming what they are legally entitled.

Our specialist will provide information on what can be claimed, what should be done to make a claim for the R&D Tax Concession and EMDG to provide access to the potentially lucrative concession and grant.
